I. Introduction

- A. The Society for Creative Anachronism (SCA) Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Office advances the organization's research and educational mission and commitment to our core values and policies by working collaboratively with Kingdoms and local groups to promote a climate that values diversity, equity, and inclusion, and is free of bias and harassment.

The office will develop activities and training to cultivate a climate in which all members are treated fairly and are able to thrive in a welcoming atmosphere. This work is compliant with nondiscrimination laws, ADA laws, the SCA mission statement, and our governing documents, especially our policies on harassment, bullying, and hate speech.

The goals of this office are to:

- Build the framework of inclusive excellence (IE), which is the recognition that the success of the SCA is dependent on how well it values, engages, and includes the rich diversity in membership. It is an approach that requires awareness, education, and commitment that results in transformation of the organization.
- Increase the possibility of becoming a more diverse organization that welcomes and values the different strengths members offer and ensure all members have access to the same opportunities for success in the SCA.
- Educate SCA kingdom officers and help them create a climate of equity for all members to contribute despite the presence of differences.

II. Mission and Vision Statement

A. Mission

The SCA Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) Office is committed to promoting the values of inclusion throughout the SCA. This office will provide a framework to address discriminatory actions in our organization, including identifying opportunities for improvement, developing trainings for Kingdom Officers, conducting a comprehensive policy review, promoting accountability based on our core values, and supporting our existing processes to address inequitable actions, including discrimination and bullying. The Society DEI Officer will facilitate the necessary conversations and decision-making that can lead to a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive SCA.

B. Equity Vision Statement

Equity is just and fair inclusion into an organization in which all can participate, prosper, benefit, and reach their full potential. The Society for Creative Anachronism is committed to building a diverse and equitable organization. We recognize the history of oppression that has resulted in ongoing disparities for some communities, as well as the limitations of our nonprofit framework to address them. Yet, we have a powerful opportunity before us to create a welcoming place for all to participate in the research and education of pre 17th-century arts and sciences. We believe that the first step in doing this is to confront our own biases and operationalize our values.

The SCA is committed to our own equity journey, the diversity of our membership, and the broader contributions both will have to an inclusive and equitable organization that champions chivalry and honor. We learn from history that for as many differences there are between us and those who lived centuries ago, there are an equal number of similarities. The same holds true to those who live now.

The mission and vision we hold for the SCA move us to build opportunities for learning, growth, and accountability. We want to be an organization that holds true to our Core Values:

“SCA Statement of Core Values

In pursuing its mission, the SCA is committed to excellence in its programs, communications, and activities, and to

- act in accordance with the chivalric virtues of honor and service;
- value and respect the worth and dignity of all individuals;
- practice inclusiveness and respect pluralism and diversity;
- promote a safe and respectful environment for all SCA events;
- act with transparency, fairness, integrity, and honesty;
- be a responsible steward of SCA resources; and,
- be committed to maintaining the trust of its members and participants.

It is the expectation of the SCA that its members and participants, in all events and activities of the SCA, will conduct themselves in accordance with these tenets.”

A. REQUESTED BOARD ACTIONS

Only items that require the Board to make a decision should go under this heading.

A short explanation of why the decision is necessary is fine; however, if the request requires an extensive explanation, then a shortened version of the request should be placed under Item A with a notation that the detailed explanation can be found in a separate section or addendum of your report.

If you are requesting approval of a Handbook (or any other item that is to be sold through the Corporate Office) you must submit a print-ready copy with your request.

Examples

1. Please approve an increase of $500.00 in my budget for the 2013 fiscal year. I am making this request because, due to the increase in gas costs and an unexpected change of venue, I would be unable to travel to The Known World Rapier Symposium without it. As Society Marshal, my attendance at this Symposium is necessary.

2. Please approve an addition to the Governing Documents, specifically Corpora VIII.D.4, to create the title of "Archduke /Archduchess". This change is necessary to accommodate individuals who have reigned a minimum of twenty (20) times. A detailed assessment is attached hereto as Addendum A.

3. Please approve the new Marshal's Handbook. A redline version and a print-ready version will follow under separate cover.

B. POLICY INTERPRETATIONS

There are times when you will be questioned about processes that are already defined within your office, for example, regulations which already exist in your officer's handbook. Your responses to important decisions that may have long-reaching impact or which may be controversial go under this heading. Again, short descriptions are fine. Extended explanations should be added to the end of the report as an attachment.

Examples

1. As Society Seneschal, I have been asked to review a recent suggestion that all Society corporate documents be translated to and maintained in Latin only. While such translation might make an interesting private project, I would ask the Board to uphold my interpretation that such a requirement is a violation of Corpora I.A.1.

2. It has come to my attention as Society Marshal that individuals at Border Raids have constructed shields with decorative rubber nails for use on the field. After review of the shields in question, I believe that the rubber nails being used are not safe and violate the standards set forth in the Marshal's Handbook. Therefore, I ask that the Board uphold my policy interpretation that rubber nails not be allowed for use in SCA combat weapons. (For further information see excerpts from the Society Marshal's Handbook at Addendum B.)

C. NEW POLICIES

There are times when you will be asked to make decisions about processes that have not already been defined within your office or which do not already exist in your officer's handbook. Your responses to important decisions that may have long-reaching impact or which may be controversial go under this heading. Again – the main body should only have a short description. Backup documentation is placed as an addendum.

Example

1. Acme Piping has created a new high-density polyethylene water piping that just started being marketed in August 2011. I have been asked to approve the use of this piping for use in the construction of glaives. The product has been tested and deemed safe for our use. I ask that the Board uphold this new policy approving the use of Acme high-density polyethylene water piping for use in the construction of SCA weapons. A spreadsheet showing test results can be found at Addendum C.

Example of an Item Which is Not a “Request for Board Action”, “Policy Interpretation” or “New Policy”

2. I plan to do the normal bi-yearly review of the Equestrian Handbook. I plan to have this ready for presentation to the Board for approval at the next quarterly meeting.

Although good information, it is not asking the Board to do anything. It is a normal function of the office; so technically it does not require the Board's permission or approval. As a normal function of the office, it is obviously not “new”.

Any informational items not requiring action of some type by the Board should be placed under General Status or Addendums.

D. COMMENDATIONS

This is the section in which you get to thank people or note the accomplishments of your officers.

You should never leave this section blank and you should definitely use this section generously. This is an especially useful spot for thanking people who are active at local levels for their work.

E. GENERAL STATUS REPORT

This is a summary directed to the Board of special, non-confidential issues related to the office.

F. PUBLISHABLE SUMMARY

This is a summary directed to the Membership to let them know what is happening with the office. It is probably one of the most important aspects of your report. While this should not be a novella, it should consist of more than just a couple of lines.

It should not be the same thing every quarter. It can be used to introduce your new deputies, to accent projects on which your office is working, and to remind the membership that you, as an Officer, would love to hear their ideas and comments.

G. KNOWN WORLD SUMMARY

This is the place to note actions taking place in the different Kingdoms. This is not a place to copy over every Kingdom report received. Pull one or two interesting specific items from the Kingdom reports that you would like to bring to the Board's attention. This is also the spot to note that a Kingdom report is missing.

H. TRAVEL

This is where you post any trips you intend to take in your official capacity, as well as a line or two about what you hope to accomplish during your travels.

I. CONFIDENTIAL SECTION

Under this section you would list and describe any investigations you are undertaking, any information on sanctions you may be considering, or list any personnel issues you may be facing.

Example

1. Please add my request to uphold the Administrative Sanction of Martin Green (Peverel the Short) to the Executive Session Agenda. My backup documentation (will follow under separate cover) or (is Attachment C below).

J. ADDENDUMS

If you don't know where to put it, put it here. This is also the spot for extensive backup documentation.

Appendix B: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Strategic Plan for the SCA

Introduction

The Society for Creative Anachronism (SCA) is an international non-profit, volunteer, educational organization devoted to the research and re-creation of historical skills, arts, and sciences. The SCA consists of over 30,000 members around the globe and is one of the largest organizations of its kind. Understanding that we have a unique position as a leader in the field of historical education, the SCA grounds its commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and excellence in its Core Values. The SCA is working to infuse this commitment broadly into every aspect of the organization and ensure it is visible in our membership, events, activities, leadership, and pursuits.

The SCA seeks to pursue inclusion by understanding and identifying its strengths, as well as areas that need work, where lack of attention and action may lead to inequality and exclusion.

Guiding Principles for This Plan

Equity: Fair treatment in all aspects of our organization. Equity is an approach that ensures everyone access to the same opportunities. Resources and opportunities should be shared fairly, members should be treated fairly, and the SCA should facilitate processes that are fair and consistent.

Excellence: Being exceptionally good and of the highest quality. The SCA pursues the highest standards in its research and re-creation mission.

Inclusion: People of differing perspectives and identities feel welcomed, respected, and valued. Inclusion means we identify and eliminate barriers that have prevented the full participation of any group members.

Diversity: Differences among groups of people based on factors such as race, age, gender, religion, sexual orientation, disabilities, socioeconomic status, or culture.

Pluralism: A state in which members of diverse ethnic, racial, religious, or social groups maintain participation in and development of the SCA, where no one group or identifying characteristic totally dominates the organization because all groups value and accept diversity.
